December 15, 2014

From the Piedmont hills of Northwest Italy, comes a wine locally produced and enjoyed everyday. It has good acidity but quite approachable with a soft finish.

"Bright medium blue ruby color. Attractive aromas and flavors of plums, black berries, lovely salinity, and subtle bread crust note with a silky, tangy, dryish medium-to-full body and an even, prodigious medium-long finish with well integrated tannins and light oak."

Tastings.com - December 15, 2014

Perfect match for grilled meats, red pasta dishes, and well aged cheeses.
